MEMORIAL DAY—MAY 29th.

At a meeting of the Confederate Monumental Association held on the 7th inst., it was resolved, that the 29th of May, should be our annual "Memorial Day," for the Confederate dead at this place.

Gen. Geo. B. Holz, will deliver the address for the occasion.

Fennell's Cornet Band will be in attendance.

Let all our friends prepare a bouquet for the 29th.

A programme for the occasion will be published containing orders of the day.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

Wm. E. Arthur, Esq., will address the people of the Rutland Precinct, at Rutland, June 7th, 1870. Every body is invited to hear him.

HARRISON COUNTY.

Wm. Smith, our Assessor has finished his work and returned his books to the clerks office. He is an accountant, surpassed by none in this country. His book is perfect.

The property assessed for taxation in this county, amounts to $8,665.

It is a small amount less than the year previous.

The valuation of taxable property in the hands of the colored people amounts to $35,500.

There are 582 negroes in the county over 15 years of age. About 480 of whom will be old enough to vote.

McFARLAND ACQUITTED.

This great case which has been before the New York Courts for the past four weeks, was brought to a close on Tuesday last, the Jury turning McFarland free.

The story is this:—A fellow called Richardson, had destroyed McFarland's family and happiness by seducing his wife and stealing his children. McFarland shot him and he died. For this McFarland was tried and cleared.

So may it ever be, with all the McFarland's, who kill scoundrels, who interfere with their family rights.

MISCEGENATION.

That is the word, and that is the next proposition for consideration. Already many Northern radical newspapers have declared openly in favor of making a mongrel crew of the people of the United States, and assert that no progress may be expected in this country unless the races mix up—unless the white women marry negroes, and white men wench.

This is no joke, dear readers. The leaders and thinkers in the radical party declare that this proposition shall be a part of their policy and platform. That no man can be a faithful republican unless he places himself upon a social equality with his dark and sooty neighbors—that eating and sleeping with them will only give a republican a clear title and passport to all the positions which his party can bestow.

We advise every white man, who has the proper respect for himself, to stop voting with such a gang—to leave their ranks, and never gather with that radical squad again—or prepare to swallow the whole nigger, without anything to wash him down.

5. AMENDMENT JUBILEE.
On Friday last, the Colored people of this and the surrounding counties celebrated the proclamation of the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment, in Cynthiana.

The morning of the 6th, presented appearance of a stormy character, but by 11 o'clock the clouds cleared away, and the darkies became happy.

When the cars arrived here in the morning, from Lexington, they brought a colored band of musicians with brass instruments, all looking well and in good cheer. A large crowd came on the cars. The colored people marched from the depot to the colored Methodist Church on Pleasant Street, where they formed all the benevolent societies, dressed up in their regalia, and with a large number of little black girls dressed in white, red, and blue, each carrying the Star-spangled in her hand, all loaded into a vehicle and placed in the center of the procession. It is said the little ones represented a State. It was a query with us how the colored people should know how many States there are in the Union, when Congress is kicking them out every other day.

And as they waved their flags, we heard a passer-by utter an expression—"take down that flaunting lie,"—which sentiment was given to the world by Lloyd Garrison, the great father of free-niggerism.

The colored procession presented a very respectable appearance, as they passed through town on their way to the grounds over the bridge to our so-called "Covington," where they were addressed by Rev. Mr. Strus, of this city, and a Mr. Thomas, of Lexington, and Capt. Wilmot, of Covington. There were others who delivered addresses, but we heard no names mentioned, except W. W. Kimbrough's. He is a candidate for County Attorney, on the Republican ticket, and made a speech.

After the speaking was concluded dinner was served to all on the ground. There were 1200 people in attendance, and with one or two exceptions behaved well and looked well.

The procession marched to town about 4 o'clock, with music. We were particularly astonished to see that none of the white republicans marched in the procession. We suppose they were prohibited from so doing.

MRS. LINCOLN.

This woman, the wife of Abe Lincoln, deceased, formerly known as the "late lamented," has been residing in Europe for the past twelve months. But little has been heard from her, since she left the United States. It is our opinion that she left the country to get rid of her radical tormentors. They had commenced their regular style of shrieking and howling against her, as all lunatics do when under excitement, and as soon as she had left their yelps were heard no more.

Radical hatred for her seems to have abated very materially. How they could have relented so soon, is more than we can understand, for it is not characteristic of a New England Yankee—and as the policy of that people rules the country, Congress should have adhered to it. But no kind of data can be established by which the action of this people can in any manner be accounted for. To-morrow they will oppose every proposition they advocate to-day.

We speak in this wise of the rads, because, the House of Congress recently passed a Bill giving Mrs. Lincoln a pension of three thousand dollars per year—we hope she will be happy now.

When this Bill went into the United States Senate, the committee to which it was referred reported adverse to giving her a pension, and we suppose, she is now unhappy. We can not conceive what has caused this split among the mongrels.

Ring's Vegetable Ambrosia.

Hereditary baldness is supposed to be incurable. All that can be done where it begins to show itself is to put off the evil day by the judicious use of some stimulating or cooling preparation that shall create new action in the glands or follicles, usually called roots, and thus tighten the hair that would otherwise become loose and fall off. Ring's Vegetable Ambrosia has acquired an enviable reputation for this purpose, generally but not invariably, proving successful.

DISASTER AT RICHMOND, VA.
We made a notice in our last issue, of the dreadful calamity which had recently overtaken the people of Richmond, and which threw them into sorrow and mourning. No city, in this country, has ever been visited with misfortunes so strong as Richmond, and the heart that is not moved at the recital of the sufferings of the unfortunate must be black and callous enough to enter upon that eternity of hell, which it is said our Creator has prepared for all those, who forget him. And it is an indisputable fact that in the heart where no sympathy is found for the creature, it is just as true that none can be found for the Creator. Therefore, such people are doomed.

In Congress, on the 3d inst., Hon. T. L. Jones, got up in his place and said: "I rise to a privileged question, and submit the following resolution for consideration at this time:

Resolved, In view of the appalling calamity that has fallen upon the city of Richmond by which so many human beings were hurried from thine to eternity, and many others dangerously injured, and in consideration that to-morrow, the 4th inst., has been set apart by the authorities and people of the city as a day of fasting and prayer, that the House, in respect for the dead, sympathy for the living, and a proper appreciation of such a signal manifestation of Providence, when it adjourns to-day adjourn 't meet at eleven o'clock on Thursday next.

The Speaker ruled that the resolution must receive the unanimous consent of the House, to be considered.

Mr. Garfield, of Ohio, and another radical whom they call Ames, opposed the proposition. The points of opposition set up by Ames were not made known—much like himself aint.

In this, as in every other proposition, wherein the people of the South are interested, opposition is offered with no cause other than political.

These two great free niggers whang-doodles believed they were doing their country much service in refusing consent. If their carcasses contain a particle of leaven, it is of that kind which leads them to their own damnation. They are two worthy disciples of the negro worshipper's faith; and all persons who bow down to the false God set up by the "Black Harlot" will find themselves given over as it were to self-condemnation, back-biting, and the unconstitutionalization of their whole physical and moral system.

Let the man who proposes to follow the radical party as blindly as Garfield and Ames have been keeping step, to write down in his hat, before he starts, the words which are found over the doors of hell, "who enters here leaves hope behind."

THE FREE SCHOOLS OF HARRISON COUNTY.

In this age of enlightened progress, none can be found to call in question, or doubt the necessity of universal education. No argument is needed to prove to the people of Harrison county the importance and the duty of educating their children. While all are ready to admit, and willing to perform, this first great obligation they owe their offspring, it may not be inappropriate to offer some suggestions which may tend to facilitate and hasten the work of reform, which is needed in our Common Schools.

As every white citizen in the county, owning property, will contribute of his means toward creating the School revenue, so every man, having children to educate, will naturally and justly demand a share in the benefits the fund is intended to confer. It is estimated that the annual tax of twenty cents on each $100 in value of the property of the State, now imposed by law, the interest on the new bond issued by the State to the Board of Education, and all fines and forfeitures set apart by existing laws in aid of Common Schools, will form the basis of an effective and vigorous system that will guarantee a free school for five months in each year, in every district in the county.

Previous to the imposition of the additional tax, the amounts derived from the school fund of the State were so insignificant, that in many parts of the county no effort was made to secure it. As a consequence, many portions of the county, to-day, are without organized districts, and without school houses. Such neighborhoods, if they contain a sufficient number of children, should apply at once to have a school district organized and established, and proceed to build a school house, with a view of securing the advantages of the public funds annually to be distributed to all districts in which schools shall have been taught pursuant to the law enacted last winter. Any neighborhood, possessing a requisite number of children within the pupil ages, and which has no school within a convenient distance, can have a school district established embracing the same, provided such neighborhood can report not less than forty children without infringing, fatally, on the established boundaries of an adjoining district.

Already several new districts have been organized, and quite a number, that had failed to report for several years, have been resuscitated under the impulse given by the increased tax. Dissatisfaction has been expressed on the part of some of the large districts in the county, because of a reduction of their extended boundaries. It ought to be borne in mind that those large districts were established under the old law, when no objection was urged on the part of those living remote from the school house to which they had been attached, and which they never patronized. Now, that the distributable share of the school fund has been increased, so as to make it an object worthy the attention of all interested, whole neighborhoods situated within the boundary of an extensive district, embracing in its area a great scope of country, have asked to be detached from their former connections, and they wish to take steps to set up for themselves. No legitimate objection can be offered why such sections should not be permitted to have a district of their own, when neither district will be reduced below the minimum number, which is forty, and, in cases of extreme necessity, twenty.

There are in this county nearly four thousand children within the school age; to adequately accommodate these, not less than seventy-five school houses are needed. But there are in the county, to day, scarcely fifty, and more than one-half of these are a disgrace to the intelligence, the wealth, and the enterprise of our population. With the increase of the school fund, and the consequent general advancement of the standard of public instruction and intelligence, it is to be hoped the friends of popular education in this county will begin at once to build new, more commodious, and comfortable school houses, suitable for the accommodation of their children.

Te me it has ever been an enigma, how men of intelligence and wealth even, who exhibit the tenderest solicitude for the welfare and comfort of their daughters at home, seem to rest perfectly content to have them cooped up from six to eight hours a day in a dilapidated, comfortless, miserable log hut, with an oblong hole at one end, in mockery called a window, the ceiling about six feet from the floor, and benches of the rudest shape, without backs, on which their tender children, accustomed to cushioned seats at home, are compelled to weary out the long school days, deprived of the comforts and cheering associations, which the surroundings of a pleasant house, and neat school furniture would inspire.

HARRISON COUNTY, KY., May 9, 1870.

Mr. MOREY:—DEAR SIR:—I notice by your paper of the 28th ult., that my name is reported in the proceedings of the Republican Convention, as a working committee in the Leesburg Precinct. My name was used without my authority. I have always been a constitutional law abiding man, and a union man, but I am not in favor of negro suffrage or negro equality, and when I vote hereafter it will be with the white man's party.

"The Heated Term" is Coming. The Summer months will very soon be fairly ushered in with their usual heat and long train of diseases. It is the season when nature can do little in recuperating our exhausted strength, and when we are required to fortify our physique against the attacks of the various forms of personal vexation of sickness. The only true and safe method is that sure and reliable tonic and invigorator, MUSHLER'S HERB BITTER, which is endorsed and recommended by the medical faculty and bynummbered thousands of persons, in every city, town and village in the country, who have tested its remedial virtues. It is also preserved or recovered their health, and will put them in the way to a long and happy life. It is the combined action of the galic and harsness stock, which is the highest perfection of a horse, and knowing this and one of the best indications of a speed. It is a hand-some, strong, and a pair of geldings by him sold for $3,000. Throughbred Stock of all kinds for sale. Address,

GENERAL LEE IN HIS GLORY.

Southern Homage to the Rebel Chief.
A grand reception on Wednesday night, at the residence of W. J. Bent, bore testimony, ample and grateful, of the veneration and affectionate esteem in which Robert E. Lee, the great chief of the (so-called) "Lost Cause," is held by the elite of our people. From eight P. M. to twelve there was no cessation of the overflow of comers. Old and young, the graybeards and sages of the country, the noble, pure, honorable, poor and wealthy, with hardly an exception, were present, and glad to do him honor. Stately dames of the old school, grandmothers of seventy, and a long train of granddaughters, all flocked around the noble old chief, glad of a smile, of a shake of the hand; and happy was the girl of twelve or fourteen who carried away on her lips the parting kiss of the grand old soldier.

Such has been his welcome in Charleston; but oh! how much more fervent it would have been had his health been sufficient to have permitted him to yield himself freely to the popular anxiety to see him, feel the pressure of his hand, and hear his words, however few, in those subdued and mellow tones which de-clare the gentleman.

General Lee is evidently feeble, and his good nature was severely taxed, even by the loving exactions of those who only sought to do him honor. His fine figure seemed relaxed and weary, but his noble and bonny features, heroic and handsome, lost none of that amiable sweetness of expression which, even in his case, trained to the field, spoke for the courier far more than for the soldier. We noted that his skin was fair, florid and healthy, announcing sufficient stamina, could he escape from toil and society, for perfect recuperation. The grace, ease and simplicity of his manner were a charm in every eye, and even the few sentences which it was permitted him to speak were all so many tones of fascination to the eager ear that bent forward to listen.

Among the visitors present were noted two of the Secretaries of President Davis' Cabinet, the Hon. Messrs. Memminger and Breckinridge, and Judge Bryan, District Judge of the United States, did not conceive it inconsistent with his loyalty to do reverence to the great man in secession. His classical studies alone would keep him from such slavish disregard to genuine heroism. He well knows, as well as any man, that More true pride Marcellus, exiled, feels, Than Caesar, with a Senate at his heels.

But the tributes of the ladies were even more profuse than those of the gentlemen. Very beautiful was the collection, and it spelled the eye and charmed the senses of the veteran. He remarked:

"It is so grateful to see so much elasticity among your people; and I am astonished to see Charleston so wondrously recuperated after all her disasters."

Very wonderful! More wonderful, if he had known all; but our people have the elastic capacity for springing up erect, even under the tread of tyranny! As was said by the brave Carolina lady in the Revolution, when the British officer asked her why the chamomile was called the "rebolt flower," she wondrously replied:

"Because it grows the more vigorously the more it is trodden upon."

So let us rise! We have the hearts and the souls! "We are a people yet!"

It is not necessary to journey from the tropics to Alaska in order to experience the extremes of heat and cold. Thousands undergo all the inconveniences of this thermometer change every day, or every other day, as the case may be, without the trouble of moving over the threshold. A word with these incurably shakers. What are they doing to expedite their return to a medium temperature?—to break the chills and banish the fever? Are they dosing themselves with quinine, thereby impairing the vigor of their brains and nerves?—system, and no fever? Are they taking the bark of the Juniper Berries?—very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that cuts its fragrance and action. It name destroys this "active principle," leaving a dark and glutinous excretion. Kosko. This medicine is rapidly gaining the confidence of the people, and the numerous testimonials of its virtues, given by practitioners of medicine, leaves no doubt that it is a safe and reliable remedy for every-day or THE BLOOD, LIVER DISEASE, &c.

The last Medical Journal contains an article from Prof. R. S. Norton, M. D., President of the E. Medical College, City of New York, that speaks in high terms of its curative properties, and gives a special recommendation of Kosko to the practitioners of medicine. This is, we believe, the first instance where such medicines have been officially endorsed by the Faculty of any of the medical colleges, and reflects great credit upon the skill of Dr. Lawrence, its compounder, and also puts "Kosko" in the rank of all other medicines of the present day.

Died.

James Savage, whom will be remembered by his many friends, he gained while in our midst, came to Cynthiana some time last winter, in order to avail himself of medical attendance at this place. About a month since, he left Cynthiana and repaired to the Lakes, whose bracing atmosphere he thought might prove advantageous to his health. He suffered from an affection of the lungs. But deriving no benefit from the change, he started for his home in New Haven, Indiana, where on Sunday, the 1st day of May, he died.

A Huge Tree.

We have read of large trees in the State of California, that are said to measure thirty feet in circumference. A tree of such large dimensions would be an object of wonder in Kentucky, and we had not supposed that one could be found in the State that would measure more than half as many feet in circumference. But Dr. Dill informs us that he has a tree growing on his farm, not more than a mile from Cynthiana, that actually measures twenty-nine feet and eight inches in circumference. It stands on the banks of Gray's Run, and is a sycamore, standing all alone, grand, stately and sublime. No charge is made for the privilege of looking at it.

The Wonder of the Age. The greatest wonder of the age, is that celebrated remedy for diseases arising from a debility of the digestive organs—Hoofland's German Bitters. The power exercised over diseases of this class by the Bitters is indeed miraculous. They cure the worst cases of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Nervous Debility, Want of Appetite, with the greatest facility. For sale everywhere by Druggists. They are not a beverage.
